

SIGHT USER GUIDE

SIGHT is intended to serve the users interested in understanding or studying various scripture, the family and related documents of all major religions from a single platform. The scope doesn't cover any subjects other than spirituality. This query engine works on an ever-growing database like Wikipedia; but limited to scriptures and related commentaries / sub-commentaries, various translations in different languages etc. The user interface has been designed in such a way that users can do multi filtering of the subject matter which is not possible with major query engine such as Google, Yahoo etc.

Thanks to user feedbacks on the earlier version, this version is a completely revamped one making it further user-friendly requiring very few inputs from users.

Though it is meant to cater for all religions, it is comprehensive to cover mainly Indic Religions particularly Hinduism owing to better exposure to Hinduism of the SIGHT editorial board. However, attention of users is drawn to the fact that a strong base structure frame-work has been developed for all religions similar to the one used for Indic Religions. Further assistance from knowledgeable persons of any religion is hereby requested. Needless to say, it is an ever-growing data-warehouse.

The whole set of data related to scriptures has been designed in a filterable structure starting with Religion, Main Group (Family) – Sub Group, Scripture Name, Scripture Commentaries / Sub-Commentaries etc, related Languages in different formats (Text / Audio / Video / Diagrams). Using this structure, users can filter and select the desired Scripture and / or Commentaries etc.

How to operate:

Opening Screen:

1. Place the cursor on desired Religion and "Click" to set up default religion. Once chosen it will continue to remain default until changed.

2. SCRIPTURE SEARCH

- 2A. There are three buttons viz. Scripture, Commentaries (categorized) and Commentaries (non-categorized) in the second row. Scripture search is the default button here. Cursor is automatically placed on Search field where the "Enter Minimum)" note appears.

- 2B. Asterisk (*) is the default in the search field. Clicking on the Search button adjacent to the Search field returns a list of all scriptures in alphabetical order filterable by Main Group, Sub-Group, Scripture Name or language.

2C. To obtain a shorter filterable list type any five sequential letters or more forming part of Main Group/Sub-Group or the Scripture Name in the Search field and click on the Search button.

2nd Screen

2D. From the list of scriptures (filtered as required), select any desired scripture and click on the scripture name to access the 3rd Screen which will give a brief description of the scripture along with three or two buttons as follows:

3rd Screen

- a) For scriptures available in digital format with meanings, the three buttons shall be: Show scripture, Show Commentary and Show Verse meaning.
- b) For scriptures in non-digital format and without verse meanings only two buttons viz. Show Scripture and Show commentary will appear.

Click on the Show Scripture button and the desired scripture is displaced as it is provided by the Contributor accessed. By clicking on the Show Commentary Button, a list of all commentaries, sub-commentaries, translations and related documents will be returned which is a feature unique to SIGHT. Further filtering of commentaries from this list and accessing of verse meaning are detailed below under respective heading.

3. Commentary/Sub-commentary Search

Opening Screen

3A. Categorized commentaries can be accessed in two ways. Through Scripture Search as above or by moving the cursor and clicking on the Commentaries button in the second line of the opening screen.

3B. As in the case of scripture search, the User can obtain either a list of all Categorized Commentaries by asterisk (*) on the search field which is default or by typing the five letters or more of Main Group/Sub-Group or Scripture_name, Publisher, Author or translator of the desired scripture and clicking on the search button. A list of the relevant Commentaries/Sub-commentaries etc, further filterable by all the above criteria will be returned as the second screen.

Second Screen

3C. In the list appearing as second screen, by clicking on the arrow button next to contents in each column of the list a brief description and by clicking on the round button a detailed description of the relevant matter can be viewed. The list is filterable by all the criteria appearing as the title of the column by providing input in the specified field. Search facility through Control F function is also available.

3D. In the case of commentaries with multiple documents, by clicking on the view button in the right-most column of the screen, a list of all documents relating to the commentary can be obtained as third screen.

Third Screen

3E. From this screen, by clicking on the view button, the desired document in desired format can be accessed as is provided by the contributor.

4. NON-CATEGORIZED COMMENTARY SEARCH

Same as Categorized Commentary Search above but there will be no related scripture to these.

5. VERSE MEANING SEARCH

By clicking this button, the user will be provided the meanings of each verse contained in the subject scripture by Canto , Chapter, Verse no. Scripture verse in its language and the verse maning in English.

GENERAL NOTES:

< Ctrl > & ' F ' function for generic search is available in all documents in addition to all search options provided by SIGHT team.

For scripture list availability user may input few characters of "Group Name, Sub-Group Name, Scripture Name, Deity Name, Scripture Category such as Namavalis, Stotra, Keerthana, Suktam etc. The system has been made intelligent to get the desired results. If any of the search function fail, user may kindly provide feed- back to take corrective action by SIGHT

By Inputting part of Group Name, Sub-Group Name, Scripture Name, Categories such as Deity, Namavalis, Stotra, Keerthana etc, user can access the list of relevant scriptures. Shown below is the base structure of Religion, Main Group, Sub-Group names. Also additional list of Publishers and Acharya/Scholar names whose contribution has been added into the Commentary database.

Shown below is a comprehensive list of Group and Sub Group Names, Authors/Scholars and Publishers whose publications have been linked to thru web.

By inputting part of Group Names, Sub-Group or Scripture name shown in the following list, (Veda, Purana, Itihasa, Stotram/Keerthanam etc.), Sub-Group (Samhita, Brahmana, Upanishads, etc.) and so on relevant list of scriptures can be obtained.
